Course Overview:	The Bachelor of Fine Art aims to produce professional practitioners in the contemporary visual arts. The subjects offered are shown below for the Studio Studies program. Within the Studio Studies program students choose from a menu of programs that provide a focus for their initial studies, according to specific technological and materials practices, such as the Photography Program that will introduce students to the technological and methods of both analogue and digital photographic practices. Similarly a student who opts for the Sculpture and Spatial Practice Program will be provided with the necessary skill and safe uses of materials. In addition to the major study in the studio students will be required to undertake the adjunct studies as a co-requisite including Critical and Theoretical Studies and the studies delivered through the Common Curriculum. This course is only offered as a three-year full-time course; part-time study is not available.
Objectives:	The objectives of this course are to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"># produce professional practitioners in the contemporary visual arts;# enable students to learn the skills and techniques required for contemporary art production;# encourage the simultaneous development of students' conceptual and technical abilities by providing a study program that is designed to relate to the practical and theoretical requirement of visual art disciplines;# enhance student awareness of their relationship with and responsibility to their cultural environment and society by providing opportunities for informed critical enquiry, social interaction and cultural exploration during their studies;# allow students, if they so desire, to move away from medium-dominated directions in their art activities;# enable student learning in aspects of the history and theory of the visual arts and culture in order to build up their understanding and knowledge of the past and present;# enable students to prepare themselves for postgraduate study;# provide opportunities for students to work in a range of mediums of their choosing.
