Subject Overview:	Bidding for and managing major events have become a significant part of the sporting and cultural scene in Australia and internationally, attracting the interest of governments and major businesses. Australia, and Melbourne in particular, are recognised for their leadership in this growing segment of the entertainment industry, with Melbourne repeatedly winning the title of the world's 'Ultimate Sports City'. This subject provides students with an applied approach to the legal aspects of staging major events from beginning to end. The three lecturers work in the industry and bring to the subject strong practical experience of bidding for events, providing the necessary physical and legal infrastructure and dealing with operational issues. Principal topics will include the legal aspects of: # Event ownership # Event procurement, including bidding processes and government support # Role of host organisations and promoters

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Commercial arrangements, including broadcasting, sponsorship, corporate hospitality and merchandising # Venue hire # Role of federal and state governments, including special-purpose legislation, policing and security, traffic and transport, public health, and business and tourism development programs # Ticketing and accreditation, including sale and distribution methods, and terms and conditions # Brand protection and anti-infringement strategies # Risk and incident management.
Objectives:	A student who has successfully completed this subject should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Possess a general knowledge of the nature of event management in Australia and internationally # Understand the role of the event owner, host organisation, promoter and government in procuring and staging major events in Australia # Understand the legal structure for, and laws relating to, event management in Australia # Be able to engage in informed debate over the sufficiency of those laws to serve the interests of key stakeholders.
