Subject Overview:	This subject will further develop the associates' understanding of and capabilities in the curriculum, pedagogy and assessment of their specific teaching area. As in first year, the subject will be taught through face-to-face seminars, online and through individual mentoring. The specific focus will be on refining practice through assessment of student learning and critical self reflection. Associates will be encouraged to link their classroom practice to key theory and research into the teaching of the particular Learning Area. Ongoing online interaction will promote a strong sense of peer sharing, supporting the students in continuously reflecting on their own developing philosophy of teaching in their Learning Area.
Learning Outcomes:	On completion of this subject associates will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"># Demonstrate an enhanced ability to gather evidence that will enable them to reflect critically on their own practice in relation to student needs;# Demonstrate an enhanced ability to plan and evaluate learning and teaching experiences for diverse learners in their Learning Area;# Understand and recognise starting points (prior understandings and beliefs), design activities that help overcome aspects that may be difficult or complex to learn, monitor student learning and provide feedback;# Design interventions that maximise each individual student's learning;# Report to stakeholders about student learning and make recommendations for support and intervention;

	# Reflect critically on their own learning, teaching and assessment practices within their learning area and identify implications for their own professional growth as teachers of their Learning Area.
Assessment:	There is one assessment task: Portfolio of Differentiated Teaching and Assessment Materials (2000 words) due July, 100% There are five hurdle requirements: Students are required to complete the five rounds of online workshops. The workshops require students to personally reflect on the monthly topics and readings in terms of teaching and learning of the specific learning area. Attendance at all classes (tutorial/seminars/practical classes/lectures/labs/online classes) is obligatory. Failure to attend 80% of classes will normally result in failure in the subject.
Prescribed Texts:	Prescribed readings will be made available on the LMS.
Breadth Options:	This subject is not available as a breadth subject.
