Subject Overview:	This subject introduces students to the concept of dramaturgy as a critical tool in devising live performance. The basis of this process is the translation of a central idea and theme, through research, design, and documentation to conclude in a studio scale devised live performance. Students will be introduced to historical and contemporary dramaturgical theory and practices. They will be required to participate in performance making and presentational tasks. They will critically evaluate the dramaturgical structures of the performance. Multimedia and non-traditional performance modes will be encouraged. The devised project will be facilitated by a staff member.
Assessment:	Combined assessment tasks to the equivalent of 4000 words comprising participation in the preparation and performance of this project equivalent to 2000 words 50% (due throughout the semester), production of a case book that records and analyses dramaturgical processes equivalent to 500 words 20% (due at the end of semester), an essay of 1500 words that evaluates the devised performance from the point of view of performance dramaturgy 30% (due at the end of semester). A hurdle requirement of a minimum 80% attendance required.
