Course Overview:	The graduate courses in urban design at the University of Melbourne help develop professionals who are capable of seeing the city from multiple viewpoints and who relish working with interdisciplinary teams. The Postgraduate Diploma equips students with the skills necessary to undertake design research and to learn about urban history, theory and communications. Successful completion of the Postgraduate Diploma can lead to admission to the Master of Urban Design, a studio based course in which students gain expert knowledge, enabling them to forge a career in urban design or a related field. The strengths of both these courses are the people involved and the atmosphere they create. People who make urban design at the University of Melbourne what it is are the staff and students. Our core group of staff brings together experience and active involvement in current urban design research, design research and education. A broader teaching team with expertise in landscape architecture and urban planning adds diversity and richness. Urban design students contribute their own experiences, energy, new themes and aspirations and add to a multicultural complexity that make our courses special. Our urban design courses encourage interaction and an appreciation of creativity and difference which creates an atmosphere of collegiality and common endeavour. Course specialities The key quality of the urban design programs, and particularly the Master of Urban Design, are their combined strength of urban design theory and three design studios. Studio projects are always approached as design-research exercises, where innovation and discovery represent a major part of the educational experience. Studios emphasise the importance of place and fieldwork represents a significant component of studio work. Professional and wider community involvement is a regular part of the Master of Urban Design studio experience.
Objectives:	The course aims to develop skills in urban design-related topics and to fill in gaps in student's knowledge and skill-base, such as design or theory, to enable them to enter the Master of Urban Design if they wish. The course aims to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># provide a postgraduate level education in urban design which meets the fundamental market expectations in urban design practice;</li> <li># provide students with skills in urban design and related areas;</li> <li># serve an integrating role between the disciplines of the Faculty, building cross-disciplinary strength and teaching efficiency; and</li> <li># lead to further academic studies.</li> </ul>
Course Structure &amp; Available Subjects:	Students must complete 100 points of study, of which 75 points must be at Level 4 or above. Note that after the first semester, exceptionally successful students may be permitted to transfer into the Master of Urban Design course, at the discretion of the Course Coordinator. Performance at the H2A level (70%) is required for subsequent enrolment in the Masters of Urban Design. Course Stream Subjects Students in the Postgraduate Diploma of Urban Design will be required to select subjects, in consultation with a course adviser, from the offerings available in the Architecture, Landscape Architecture and Urban Planning postgraduate programs. Students should select subjects from

outside of their current field of practice, for example, architects should choose subjects from the Landscape Architecture and Urban Planning areas whilst planners should choose subjects from Architecture and Landscape Architecture.
