Overview:	A major in development usually consists of eight 12.5-point subjects, totalling 100 points. It comprises: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># two first-year subjects (25 points), which must include Famine in the Modern World and at least one other subject from the list of first-year social science subjects below; and</li> <li># six second/third-year subjects (75 points), which must include Development and the Third World, three core subjects and two optional subjects.</li> </ul> Students seeking to make a career in development are strongly advised to construct an undergraduate program that combines a major in development with a major in one of the social sciences (anthropology, economics, geography, political science, sociology). Students who commenced their degree before 2007 will need to complete 112.5 points toward this major in order to complete the major. For the specific major structure you must follow, refer to the handbook produced in the year you commenced your degree, available online at http://www.unimelb.edu.au/HB/.
