| Subject Overview: | This subject focuses on key social and political issues that are part of the public discourse in the media in Japan and Australia. These include Japan's aging society, education and language policies and gender equality. It compares the coverage of these issues in print and electronic media, including websites and television programming. It assesses each medium in terms of objectivity, cultural relativism and audience expectations. Through project work and classroom discussions, students will develop an understanding of media idioms and usage, culturally specific expressions and Japanese sociocultural norms. |
| Objectives: | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # deepen understanding of idioms and usages in Japanese media, including Japanese sociocultural norms and culturally specific expressions; # understand current issues in Japan and be able to analyse and contribute to public discourse |
