Subject Overview:	This subject considers several key aspects of Soviet history from the death of Lenin in 1924 to the death of Stalin in 1953. The subject describes the growth of the Soviet state, the move from the New Economic Policy to planned industrialisation and collectivisation of agriculture, the growth of the Red Army, urbanisation and major social transformations. Students will be asked to consider Stalin's role in the political system from archival and other records, not exclusively from myth. They will also be required to consider both the successes of the regime, including victory in World War II, as well as the costs, including political repression.
Objectives:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># understand how the Stalinist State system, the Soviet Planned Economy and the Red Army grew and developed in the thirty years from 1924 to 1953;</li> <li># be able to locate the role that Stalin and the Soviet Communist Party played in these developments;</li> <li># be able to assess the achievements of the State, including victory in World War 2, and gain an understanding of the costs involved in these developments.</li> </ul>
Assessment:	A document exercise of 1000 words 20% (due early semester), a tutorial diary of 500 words 10% (due mid semester) and a 2500 word research essay 70% (due at the end of semester).
