Subject Overview:	This subject examines how social and cultural factors influence language, and the role language plays in structuring and representing social categories across cultures. It examines how culture and language shape each other: how language represents and enables culture, and how cultures influence the form individual languages take. Specific topics to be covered include socially determined variation in language styles and registers; language varieties reflecting social class, gender and ethnic group; factors affecting language choice such as, bi- and multi-lingualism, as well as the relation between language, culture and thought and universalist versus relativist, views of language. Students will also study changes in language status over time.
Objectives:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # understand and be able to identify the ways in which social factors influence language; # have developed an appreciation of the role of language in identity and society; # have become familiar with the central techniques of sociolinguistic research.
Assessment:	Critical review of a research article 1000 words 20% (due mid semester), quiz 30% (toward end semester) major project 40% (due end semester), and class participation 10%.
