Subject Overview:	This subject explores how society deals with the need for order and the inevitable consequence that deviance and non-conformity will result. Classical and contemporary sociological theories are explored that help explain the nature of social order and crime and deviance. Each theory is developed through grounded examples that can illustrate both its strengths and weaknesses. Topics covered in the course include suicide, industrial disasters, religious cults, sexual assault, racism, terrorism and the witchcraze of the 17th and 18th centuries in Europe.
Objectives:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # understand how the need for order in a society has implications for crime and deviance; # understand the way individual experience and behaviour shapes and is shaped by the broader social environment; # understand the contribution of a range of sociological theories to the problems of order, disorder, crime and deviance; # be able to apply a range of sociological theories to specific challenges associated with order, disorder, crime and deviance.
Assessment:	An essay of 2000 words 50% (due mid-semester) and a 2-hour examination 50% (due at the end of semester).
