Subject Overview:	This subject studies Aboriginal dance, theatre and popular music, cultural and sporting festivals and governmental arts funding agencies and Aboriginal arts organisations. It focuses on theoretical and political issues which arise from Aboriginal culture being both a commodity and a vehicle of indigenous identity and resistance. It uncovers the diverse and transitional nature of contemporary Aboriginal cultural production and the social and political contexts which frame the creation and use of contemporary Aboriginal cultural production. Students should develop an understanding of the politics of consumption and appreciation of Aboriginal cultural productions as well as the politics of content.
Objectives:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # appreciate (for non-Aboriginal students especially) the politics of reading positions in relation to Aboriginal cultural production; # appreciate the diversity of Aboriginal cultural production, in terms of form, content, voice and place; # understand the problematics of Aboriginal cultural production in the context of postcolonial Australia, and its relation to everyday life here.
Assessment:	Tutorial participation and a 10-minute paper presentation, 10%; an essay of 1500 words 30% (due mid-semester); and an essay of 2500 words 60% (due at the end of semester). Students must attend a minimum of nine tutorials in order to qualify to have their written work assessed.
