Subject Overview:	This semester sees the further extension of intensive studio and workshop practice. In consultation with staff, students are encouraged to expand their own program through a critical evaluation of conceptual, aesthetic and technical considerations in their work. Students are required to articulate, discuss and analyse their work in regular individual and group tutorials and to be familiar with the historical precedents and contemporary influences that inform their work. Professional practice lectures continue
Objectives:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Emphasis is placed on the focused development of conceptual and research skills, skills in critically engaging with art as a profession, and enhancing the student's individual contribution to their chosen discipline # Students should have the requisite understanding, knowledge and skills to maintain an independent artistic practice upon leaving the course
Assessment:	Assessment is based on a substantial folio of work demonstrating the range of a student's activities during the semester, including any group of finished works, support work, drawings, journals/sketchbooks etc and other works/material in any media the student chooses to submit. For more detailed assessment information refer to your program's subject handouts. Ongoing feedback is provided to students via individual and group tutorials. The mid-semester review takes into account the student's progress against the following criteria: Course engagement Work development Studio use Formal feedback is given to students who are deemed to be at risk. Academic staff write progress reports during the semester that students sight and sign. A single mark is assigned at the end of the semester
