Subject Overview:	In this subject the student will negotiate a personal course of study (with their supervisor and Head of School) in which they may specialise in one area of film craft such as cinematography, production management or editing. Students choosing this option will normally be required to undertake an industry placement under a nominated mentor, crew on VCA productions and keep and present a creative diary. Activities may also include the research and presentation of papers or seminars and an exchange to another film school (at an appropriate level). On conclusion of this subject each student will be expected to be able to function creatively and technically in their designated crew role to a demonstrable high industry standard.
Objectives:	On completion of this subject the student should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # demonstrate strong creative and technical skills in a specific area of production; # confidently plan and organise work and solve problems; # effectively communicate in oral and written form; # participate with assurance as a specialist member of a collaborative team while respecting individual differences; # apply specific knowledge to a complex practical project; # exhibit extensive knowledge of the film, television and allied industries.
Assessment:	Assessment items will normally include a minimum of one significant professional placement, crewing on two roles in area of specialization, a creative journal, and a self directed research paper. Exact weighting to be negotiated on an individual level with supervisor and Head of School, depending upon the contract of activities suited to the craft which is selected for specialization (100%).
