Subject Overview:	This subject introduces students without previous composition tuition to strategies for thinking about and constructing original music. Students will write chamber music based on instruments available within the class. The subject will be divided into three 4-week modules, each beginning with a process of sketching and culminating in a short completed project to be performed in class.
Objectives:	On completion of this subject, students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># Develop practical strategies for writing original music.</li> <li># Develop an ability to structure self-imposed guidelines for composing new work.</li> <li># Communicate clearly to performers through professionally presented music notation.</li> <li># Rehearse and perform new music in a group context</li> <li># Respond critically and creatively to new music by others</li> </ul>
Assessment:	Assessment will be not only on the basis of the completed projects, but also on the process of work. Project 1: solo – due Week 4 (25% = sketches (5%) + project (20%)) Project 2: duo – due Week 8 (30% = sketches (5%) + project (25%)) Project 3: quartet – due Week 12 (35% = sketches (5%) + project (30%)) Engagement (10%) – consisting of EITHER participation in tutorial readings of students' projects as required OR attendance at and 300-word written review of one School of Music composers' concert Students are required to attempt each component in order to pass the subject.
