Subject Overview:	This subject introduces students to writing for performance. It aims to give students the opportunity to reflect upon, experiment with, and enhance the performance potential of their writing. Through discussions on performance studies, aspects of performance writing and practice, and in workshops, students will explore the range of skills involved in writing for performance and in developing effective performance practice in relation to their own work.
Objectives:	Students who complete this subject will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># be able to demonstrate a heightened sense of the performative potential of all writing;</li> <li># be able to demonstrate in the writing and performance of their own texts a range of skills and strategies for making writing an event in the performance space;</li> <li># have gained an appreciation of contemporary performance practices and also recognise and begin to exploit the performative in all texts;</li> <li># have gained experience performing their own work - through workshoping.</li> </ul>
Assessment:	Attendance and participation in workshops 10%, an 8 - 10 minute performance/reading (equivalent to 1000 words) 20% (scheduled in class during semester), a 3000 word script 70% (due at the end of the semester). This subject has a minimum hurdle requirement of 75% attendance, regular participation in tutorials are required. Assessment submitted late without an approved extension will be penalised at 10% per day. In-class tasks missed without approval will not be marked. All pieces of written work must be submitted to pass this subject.
Prescribed Texts:	A subject reader will be available
