Subject Overview:	This subject provides an overview of the principal compositional styles and techniques found in twentieth-century Western music. Students are required to write five brief original compositions in specific modern styles. There will be a short-answer test including set work recognition (listening), and information and techniques covered in lectures. There will also be a scales test.
Objectives:	On completion of this subject, students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># demonstrate a working knowledge of the principal 20th-century techniques</li> <li># understand and articulate the historical context in which they emerged</li> <li># compose short pieces using these techniques</li> <li># appreciate the skills and challenges of the compositional process</li> </ul>
Assessment:	Five practical assignments written during the semester (70% = 14% each); short-answer test held in the examination period (15%); scales test to be held in the examination period (5%); attendance, participation, and direction of the class ensemble in performing the assignments (10%). All components must be attempted in order to pass this subject.
