Overview:	Chinese language subjects are organised in a progressive sequence (of units) from Chinese 1 through to Chinese 10. Entry and exit points are determined by the student's background in the language, placement testing, prerequisites, or at the discretion of the Chinese program. Students normally progress through the subjects in consecutive order. Mid-year entry is also possible into subjects with even numbers, subject to appropriate prior experience and approval from the head of the Chinese program.
Objectives:	see course objectives
Structure & Available Subjects:	Students (except those entering at Chinese 1 entry point) study Chinese as a Major through a progression of eight language subjects (100 points). A major for students entering at Chinese 1 entry point comprises ten subjects (125 points). Students study Chinese as a Minor through a progression of six language subjects (75 points). Due to the wide range of student language proficiency at entry point (from beginners to fluent), the Chinese program provides four language entry points and a super advanced entry point (available as a minor sequence only) for students who have completed secondary education in a Chinese environment. The sequence is as follows for each entry point for the Major and Minor: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Chinese 1 entry point: Students with no previous knowledge of the language usually enter the progression at Chinese 1. # Chinese 3 (post VCE) entry point: Students who have completed VCE Chinese (Second Language or IB equivalent) or have an equivalent language level usually enter the progression at Chinese 3 Post VCE. # Chinese 7 entry point: Students who have a Chinese-speaking background and minimal literacy skills usually enter the progression at Chinese 7. # Chinese 9 entry point: Students who have a Chinese-speaking background and limited literacy in Chinese usually enter the progression at Chinese 9 # Super Advanced Entry: This is an entry point only available as a minor and is for students who have completed secondary education in a Chinese environment. Students will have their appropriate entry point determined by the Chinese Program, based on evidence of prior learning and/or results of a placement test as required. Please refer the following link for further information: http://www.asiainstitute.unimelb.edu.au/help/undergraduate_students/placement (http://www.asiainstitute.unimelb.edu.au/help/undergraduate_students/placement) Students completing a major in Chinese (except those entering at Chinese 1 entry point) will usually undertake 25 points at level one, 37.5 points at level two and 37.5 points at level three. Students completing a major in Chinese who enter Chinese 1 entry point will usually undertake 25 points at level one, 50 points at level two and 50 points at level three. Students completing a minor in Chinese will usually undertake 25 points at level one, 25 points at level two and 25 points at level three.
