Subject Overview:	This subject examines how the Romans wrote about their history. Roman historiography tells the story of Roman expansion, and the great deeds (both heroic and villainous) of the famous Romans of the past. It can define and glorify Rome, but it can also challenge and critique Roman behaviours and the course of Roman history. Students will study a book by a major Roman historian, such as Livy or Tacitus, and examine the key elements of Latin historiographical style, how the text constructs Roman history, the role of the historian as moralist, and Roman history writing's function as a medium for the circulation of sociopolitical ideology and debate. Students who successfully complete this subject should be able to read Roman historiography, identify its stylistic features, and analyse its central themes and role within Roman culture.
Objectives:	Students who successfully complete this subject should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># be familiar with the style of Roman historiography.</li> <li># be able to analyse and communicate the central themes and techniques of the text studied.</li> <li># understand the cultural and production contexts of the text.</li> </ul>
Assessment:	A 2000 word seminar presentation (40%, due during the semester). an assessment text equivalent to 1000 words (20%, due at the end of semester). and a 2000 word essay (40%, due in the examination period). Assessment submitted late without an approved extension will be penalised at 2% per day. In-class tasks missed without approval will not be marked. All pieces of written work must be submitted to pass this subject.
Prescribed Texts:	C S Kraus (ed) Livy, Book 6, CUP 1994
