Subject Overview:	This subject focuses on the integral connection between play, the arts and learning in childhood. Through workshops, seminars, observations and site-visits, students will investigate how children learn and develop through play and creative arts experiences. To understand and learn how to facilitate children's play through arts practice students will experience, observe and co-play in a range of real-life settings. The experiential nature of the subject is supported by knowledge drawn from a range of disciplines incorporating theories of learning, play and creativity, artistic creation, and human development through art. Sites of practice may include museums, galleries, early learning centres, hospitals and community centres.
Objectives:	Students will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Experience and reflect critically on diverse arts and play settings for children; # Demonstrate an understanding of the role of the arts and play in child development; # Practice observational and analytical skills; # Develop skills and knowledge that support play-based arts practice in a range of 'real-life' settings.
