

EDUC90350 Communication, Social Skills & Disability

Credit Points:	25
Level:	9 (Graduate/Postgraduate)
Dates & Locations:	2012, Parkville This subject commences in the following study period/s: Semester 1, Parkville - Taught on campus. Parkville Campus
Time Commitment:	Contact Hours: 18 hours online component plus 12 hours of lectures Total Time Commitment: 240 hours of non-contact commitment. Attendance at all classes (tutorial/seminars/practical classes/lectures/labs) is obligatory. Failure to attend 80% of classes will normally result in failure in the subject.
Prerequisites:	None
Corequisites:	None
Recommended Background Knowledge:	None
Non Allowed Subjects:	None
Core Participation Requirements:	For the purposes of considering request for Reasonable Adjustments under the Disability Standards for Education (Cwth 2005), and Students Experiencing Academic Disadvantage Policy, academic requirements for this subject are articulated in the Subject Description, Subject Objectives, Generic Skills and Assessment Requirements of this entry. The University is dedicated to provide support to those with special requirements. Further details on the disability support scheme can be found at the HDisability Liaison Unit website: Hhttp://www.services.unimelb.edu.au/disability/H
Coordinator:	Assoc Prof Patricia Brown
Contact:	Education Student Centre
Subject Overview:	This subject addresses contemporary theories and research into the processes of learning, speech, language and social development; research into the effects of cognitive, sensory, physical and social-emotional impairment on learning, language and social skills; the use of observation and informal techniques to assess language and social-pragmatics, planning for intervention in the authentic environment, assessment of the learning and social environment, classification and assessment of preverbal and verbal behaviours; parent-child, teacher-child interaction and techniques for assessment; the research and application of augmentative communication
Objectives:	On completion of this subject, students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Apply contemporary theories of language and social development; # Address the impact of disability on attention, social competence, language and social-pragmatics; # Apply effective data collecting techniques when observing the play, language and social competence of children and students with a disability; # Apply the use of multimodal or augmentative communication systems for children and students with a disability; # Apply the use of informal assessments to assist the programming of language and social skills programs; # Apply effective differentiated instruction and environmental modifications in the learning and social situations.

Assessment:	A research paper (4000 words), due end of semester, 50% A take home exam, due mid-semester, 50% Assignments submitted after the due date without an approved extension will result in an academic penalty of a 5% deduction for each day the assignment is late.
Prescribed Texts:	None
Breadth Options:	This subject is not available as a breadth subject.
Fees Information:	Subject EFTSL, Level, Discipline & Census Date, http://enrolment.unimelb.edu.au/fees
Generic Skills:	On completion of this subject, students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Evaluate and apply new knowledge # Apply analytical, critical and problem solving techniques in relation to language and social skills intervention # Demonstrate an advanced understanding of the impact of disability on language and social skill development # Improve capacity and skills to review research # Debate practices and approaches in communication and social skills intervention
Links to further information:	www.education.unimelb.edu.au
Related Course(s):	Master of Education (Special Education, Inclusion & Early Intervention)