Subject Overview:	Open Art is designed to introduce, familiarise and induct students into workshops and labs within the School of Art. Students undertake 2x6 week classes in workshops and labs other than their designated studio. Practical and conceptual lines of enquiry are examined through set projects in classes and workshops. This subject offers students the opportunity for an immersive, experiential exploration of concepts through a range of traditional and new media technologies. Classes and workshops will offer students relevant practical information designed to stimulate and develop technical skills and diverse modes of enquiry. Projects are designed to complement and underpin individual studio-based research in the first year of study.
Objectives:	This subject will enable students to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • pursue new and unfamiliar modes of artistic enquiry; • increase confidence to undertake experimental technical/artistic approaches in developing set projects; • gain early understanding of ways to approach basic levels of artistic research; • develop confidence in the articulation of ideas and critical analysis of work produced; • develop time management strategies in response to set deadlines; • understand approaches to professional presentation of projects; • stimulate and expand modes of practice and enquiry.
Assessment:	Assessment is based on a comprehensive folio of completed set projects and associated experimental works submitted at the end of the semester (100%). Ongoing feedback is provided to students during the semester via individual and group discussion and tutorials. The mid-semester review takes into account the student's progress against the following criteria:• Course engagement• Work development Hurdle requirements: Students must attend 80% of all scheduled classes and attempt all elements of assessment to be eligible for a pass in this subject.
