Subject Overview:	This subject involves a detailed analysis of a number of contemporary Italian texts, literary and non-literary, for the purpose of familiarising students with various registers and styles. There are regular oral and written practical exercises. The modern literature section provides an opportunity for students to practise their spoken Italian through the study of modern literary texts. By the end of the semester, students should have further developed their written and oral production skills and should have acquired the ability to competently discuss literary texts in Italian.
Objectives:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # have learnt to identify, and correctly use, the main registers of Italian, spoken and written. # have acquired the skills to translate from and into Italian texts of some complexity in different registers. # have acquired the ability to discuss in Italian, both orally and in writing, extended prose texts, literary and non-literary.
Assessment:	Written work consisting of three assignments of 500 words each 30% (during semester), a 1-hour mid-semester written test 20% (due in week 6), a 10-minute oral presentation class paper 15% (commencing at the start of semester and due at the end of semester), a wiki project 10% (end of semester) and a 2-hour written exam of 2000 words 25% (due at the end of semester). This subject has the following hurdle requirements: Regular participation in tutorials is required with a minimum of 75% attendance. All pieces of written work must be submitted to pass this subject. Assessment submitted late without an approved extension will be penalised at 10% per day and in-class tasks missed without approval will not be marked.
Prescribed Texts:	A subject reader will be available from the University of Melbourne Bookshop. Using Italian. A Guide to Contemporary Usage (J J Kinder and M Savini) Cambridge University Press 2004
