Subject Overview:	The subject begins by exploring historical and geographic definitions of Asia. Students will be introduced to an historical overview of the history of Asia and Asia's relationship with the West. In the second part of the subject students will examine the formation of early cultural identities within the Asian region, including the emergence of diverse Asian civilisations, the major religions and belief systems of Asia. The final part of the subject focuses on key processes of transition and contestation in 20th century East and Southeast Asia. We focus on religious revival, the lasting impact of World War Two and Japan's role within it, the rise of the Asian miracle economies and contestation over territory and resources in Asia. Finally we return to an examination of ideas about Asia. Students will be introduced to Asia through a variety of Asia-produced media. They will learn to analyse historical sources, maps, images and extracts from religious teachings in addition to secondary sources.
Objectives:	Students who complete this subject should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # be able to reflect critically on Western and Asian ideas of Asia and Asian identities. # comprehend the key religions and value systems of Asia and their origin. # have an understanding of key features of early Asian civilisations. # appreciate key historical and cultural links between Asian societies. # comprehend processes of economic transition in Asia. # understand sources of contestation within and between Asian societies. # be able to challenge commonly held Western views about Asia. # be able to critically analyse primary documents and religious and cartographic texts.
