Subject Overview:	This subject introduces the notion of spontaneous improvisation specifically designed for those musicians who have had little or no experience in the art of spontaneity as it relates to musical performance. It deals firstly with the breaking down of (perceived) inhibitions in the act of music making for those who have spent most of their music making governed by traditional notions of reading and learning music from the page.
Objectives:	On completion of this subject students should have acquired <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># the capacity to spontaneously improvise music without inhibitions formed from previous musical training;</li> <li># the art of creating spontaneously short musical works which have recognisable and acceptable formal structures and melodic, harmonic and rhythmic components which demonstrate a knowledge of common (artistic) musical languages.</li> </ul>
Assessment:	Continuous: Preparation and commitment as demonstrated by performance tasks and/or a regularly updated journal of activities embracing all areas studied (50%) - Hurdle requirement 80% attendance. Formal: One solo performance of approximately 5-7 minutes duration (50%).
