Subject Overview:	This subject is aimed at enabling students to substantially advance in their Spanish language and cultural learning. The main focus of this subject will be the linguistic analysis of Spanish texts as presented in the main literary genres which have shaped the Spanish and Latin American cultural and literary universe. Students will learn advanced Spanish language structures such as the use of complex verbal forms (subjunctive mode), and complex sentence structures through textual analysis, essay writing, oral presentation and in-class discussion. Students will learn how to write research papers in Spanish and to do close readings of a variety of genres (such as narratives, theatre, poetry, essay and film). In this subject, students will improve their oral skills by presenting and defending short critical essays in class. Furthermore, their advanced knowledge of the Spanish language will be promoted by studying, analysing and understanding sophisticated Spanish and Latin American canonical and non-canonical texts, as presented in major literary movements and periods.
Objectives:	At the end of this subject students will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Understand the different cultural realities that have shape the intellectual history of the contemporary Spanish speaking world through the reading and analysis of representative literary and non-literary texts. # Confidently participate in class discussions in Spanish about the Spanish and Latin American literary and cultural canon. # Understand Information Literacy Skills in order to be able to analyze and interpret representative Hispanic Studies texts and artistic artifacts.

	# Develop, present and defend their own ideas about literary texts and literary theory with other Spanish speakers through blogs and other contemporary communicative tools.
Assessment:	A 10 minute oral presentation due during the semester [10%] A final research paper with a focus on the self-reflection of the use of secondary sources (1100 words) due during the semester [20%] Two 1 hour tests (20%, 800 words each) due during the semester [40%] In-class performance grade throughout the semester [5%] A 1.5 hour final exam (equivalent to 1000 words) during the examination period [25%] This subject has the following hurdle requirements: Regular participation in tutorials is required with a minimum of 75% attendance. All pieces of written work must be submitted to pass this subject. Assessment submitted late without an approved extension will be penalised at 10% per day and in-class tasks missed without approval will not be marked.
