Course Overview:	The LLM is internationally recognised as a graduate degree in law of the highest quality. It has one of the largest subject ranges in the world with more than 160 subjects offered in 2013. This course is only available for law graduates and has been designed to ensure students who successfully complete the degree have an advanced understanding and appreciation of the specialised and complex legal areas on which they choose to focus their studies. The LLM is ideal for those who wish to enhance their skills in a particular legal area as well as those who wish to gain a broader and more sophisticated knowledge of the law more generally. Students enrolled in the LLM can choose from all subjects available in the Melbourne Law Masters, allowing them to tailor their degree to suit their professional or academic aspirations. Students may also choose to undertake the Master of Laws as a combination of coursework and a minor thesis.
Objectives:	The Master of Laws by Coursework focuses on: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # The changing knowledge base in selected areas of the law # Identifying and resolving legal problems and issues from theoretical and practical perspectives # Advanced skills and techniques in finding and using the law # The capacity to articulate your knowledge and understanding in oral and written presentations # The impact of globalisation on the substance, theory and practice of law # The design, conduct and reporting of original research.
Course Structure & Available Subjects:	Master of Laws by Coursework and Minor Thesis Students must satisfactorily complete four coursework subjects and achieve a minimum of 75 percent in each subject. Students may then prepare either a dissertation of 20,000 to 35,000 words or two major articles of 10,000–15,000 words each, suitable for publication in a learned legal journal. The two papers must be in the same subject area so that it is possible to have one supervisor supervise both papers. The Law School must approve the combination of subjects and thesis topic. The latter will usually build on the subjects completed. Once a thesis topic is submitted to the Law School for approval, an appropriate supervisor will be sought who may help to refine the chosen topic. Once final approval is obtained, a supervisor is appointed and supervision is carried out in accordance with the Law School's Code of Supervisory Practice. For information to assist with a preparation of a minor thesis proposal, see the Guidelines for preparing a Minor Thesis proposal (http://www.law.unimelb.edu.au/download.cfm?downloadfile=567C3730-E42C-11E0-9F220050568D0140&typename=dmFile&fieldname=filename) (.pdf). Applicants must:

	# Meet the selection criteria for the Master of Laws by Coursework; and # Have successfully completed four coursework subjects with a minimum of 75 percent in each subject; # Have completed at least one research paper of 8,000 words or more in the Melbourne Law Masters program; # Submit an appropriate thesis proposal that is approved. The Faculty will also need to appoint a supervisor for the thesis prior to approval of enrolment in the minor thesis. Candidates for admission to the Master of Laws by Coursework and Minor Thesis should note that the Faculty can give no assurance that it can provide a supervisor, and this may mean that the candidate will need to select another topic for the minor thesis or not enrol in the minor thesis. Duration # Full-time: One year # Part-time: Two to four years and courses to ensure coverage of recent developments, the range and expertise of instructors from Australia and around the world, and regular advice from MLM advisory boards combine to ensure that courses and subjects reflect emerging knowledge and ideas. Ability to investigate, evaluate, synthesise and apply existing knowledge in the relevant area(s) with creativity and initiative Small classes, a discussion-based environment and the emphasis on quality teaching and learning create an environment in which knowledge is exchanged, critically examined and adapted to current circumstances. Well-developed problem solving abilities, characterised by flexibility of approach Most subjects approach knowledge by reference to various issues or problems. Students are required to critically analyse problems and identify and develop a range of appropriate solutions through class discussion, individual study and assessment tasks. Advanced competencies in legal research and analysis Class preparation and class discussions are designed to enhance these skills, which are tested in all forms of assessment. All graduates of an LLM will have demonstrated, through subject assessment, the ability to use their research skills to plan, develop and execute substantial research-based project(s) and/or piece(s) of scholarship. Capacity to effectively communicate complex legal ideas and theories, orally and in writing, to a variety of audiences Classroom discussion and formal presentations provide an opportunity to hone oral communication skills, and written assessment tasks are graded in part on written communication skills. Appreciation of the design, conduct and reporting of original research Research papers and other research tasks are expected to attain a degree of creativity, originality and discovery that befits a postgraduate program of the highest quality, and students are encouraged and assisted to publish original work of a high standard in refereed journals. Capacity to manage competing demands on time and ability to work with a high level of autonomy and accountability The demanding nature of graduate study requires effective time-management skills from all students and an ability to work independently and be accountable for commitment to study and output, as demonstrated through class attendance, engagement and assessment. The rigour of our programs, whether undertaken part-time or full-time, ensures that all successful graduates have enhanced time-management skills and the ability to work with relative autonomy. Profound respect for truth and intellectual integrity, including the ethics of scholarship Some subjects have a substantive ethical component. All instructors have a respect for intellectual integrity and are skilled scholars or practitioners in their own right. Appreciation of the way in which knowledge provides a foundation for leadership Instructors in the Melbourne Law Masters are leaders in their fields, and many subjects involve visiting academics, exposing students to a wider array of leaders in a range of legal fields. The Law School is committed to the significance of knowledge, which informs all regular programs and a wide range of additional activities. Capacity to value and participate in teamwork Small class sizes and an intensive teaching format are valuable in encouraging group dynamics and teamwork. Understanding of the significance and value of knowledge to the wider community Law and legal knowledge are a community resource. In some subjects, this perspective is covered explicitly by the syllabus and the manner in which issues are treated in class. In addition, our diverse student body ensures that a range of perspectives on the way law impacts on the community are identified and analysed. Capacity to engage with issues in contemporary society Our programs focus on the most up-to-date legal knowledge, analysing current issues and problems through the curriculum design, classroom discussion and assessment tasks. International students are also invited to participate in extracurricular activities to aid understanding of Australian law and legal institutions. Advanced working skills in the use of new technology The most advanced IT infrastructure is available to Melbourne Law Masters students in the Law Library, the Moot Court Room, classroom settings and for private study.
