Subject Overview:	This subject is the 12.5 point capstone subject for the Architecture major students who commenced the Bachelor of Environments program prior to 2013. It is intended that the subject will integrate previous coursework in the major. The core of the undergraduate design sequence is the development of both design thinking and dexterity with tools. Linking the investigations of this subject will be the theme of fire , which may be explored conceptually, metaphorically, structurally, or technologically – e.g. inspiration and ideas, the conceptual and poetic, ceramics, sun control, light, energy, high rises, heating, colour, the spiritual.
Objectives:	For students to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># demonstrate an ability to develop a brief in response to a studio theme;</li> <li># demonstrate an ability to generate, explore and critically evaluate a variety of design possibilities for a given situation;</li> <li># demonstrate skills in the appropriate use of representational media;</li> <li># demonstrate an understanding of relationships between architectural proposals and studio themes through the application of the three points above;</li> <li># demonstrate the ability to make a case for proposals;</li> <li># demonstrate an ability to integrate studies from the three streams of subjects from the Architecture Major in design proposal(s).</li> </ul>
Assessment:	First project assessment due end of week 4 (15%) Second project assessment due week 12 (50%) Reflective journal due week 13 (25%) Participation (10%)
