Subject Overview:	An individually negotiated research project that comprises the Capstone experience for this course. Drawing on theory, knowledge and skills developed throughout the Master of English in a Global Context, students will undertake a substantial critical review of a particular body of literature. The Capstone project will culminate with the synthesis of findings of their work in a written report. A hurdle requirement for this subject is that students will also provide an oral presentation of their findings, which should incorporate a reflection on the key learnings and understandings they have gained from their studies in the Master of English in a Global Context.
Objectives:	On completion of this subject, students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # understand the process of undertaking a research project; # develop applied research skills; # conduct a constructively critical literature review; # be able to investigate systematically a matter of academic or professional concern and # be able to write a clear and coherent report on their research.
Assessment:	Research report, 10,000 words due end of semester 100%
Prescribed Texts:	None
