Subject Overview:	This subject comprises the [AQF] Capstone experience for this course. Drawing on theory, knowledge and skills developed throughout the Master of Education (Educational Management), students will complete an individually negotiated project in which the student undertakes a theoretical study (for example, a substantial critical review of a particular body of literature), a research or workplace project, or an approved relevant educational experience. The Capstone project will culminate with students synthesizing the findings of their work in a written form such as a journal article or report. A hurdle requirement for this subject is that students will also provide an oral presentation of their findings, which should incorporate a reflection on the key learnings and understandings they have gained from their studies in the Master of Education (Educational Management).
Objectives:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Carry out a substantial research-based project # Analyze data and synthesized research findings # Present research findings in written and verbal forms # Produce data/findings that can be used to inform educational management practices
Assessment:	There are two assessment components: Project proposal/preliminary report equivalent to 2000 words, due mid semester, 20% A written task equivalent to 8000 words, due end of semester, 80% There is one hurdle requirement: A 20-minute oral presentation on the research-based project, due end of semester
