Subject Overview:	This subject enhances students' language and intercultural skills in Spanish. At the end of this subject students will be able to communicate about the self and others through reading and writing personal stories and learning how to describe emotions, places and people. They will become confident conversing in everyday informal and a few formal situations. Students will also learn about the Spanish speaking world and Hispanic cultures through reading newspapers and watching the news from different Spanish speaking countries. They will be introduced to literary stories and histories (from short narratives and videos) across a variety of culturally and politically significant topics. By the end of the semester, students will be able to use a variety of structures and vocabulary in the Spanish language including present and past tenses.
Objectives:	By the end of the subject students will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># have greater aural comprehension skills</li> <li># be able to understand different Iberian and Latin American varieties of Spanish language and cultural traditions in the Hispanic world</li> <li># be able to maintain a casual conversation entirely in Spanish with a reasonable level of mutual comprehension</li> <li># be able to write a short narrative using a variety of simple verb tenses in Spanish accurately</li> <li># be able to produce increasingly coherent and cohesive discourse</li> <li># be aware of and increasingly familiar with the variety of histories, stories and traditions in the Hispanic World</li> <li># be able to write simple letters, brief synopses and paraphrases, summaries of biographical data, work and school experience.</li> <li># learn how to use organizational patterns and their most frequent discourse markers both in oral and written production</li> </ul>
