Subject Overview:	This subject is designed for students of non-Chinese speaking background who have completed Chinese 3 and Chinese 4 (previously offered as Chinese 2A and 2B), or equivalent. Students will build on the knowledge gained through their previous studies and broaden their reading, listening comprehension and speaking skills. Students will develop their ability to communicate in Chinese at a beginning-advanced level and their analytical skills of the Chinese language through engaging with a range of topics concerning contemporary Chinese society and culture. Their linguistic competence will be enhanced through exposure to Chinese materials dealing with a variety of socio-cultural situations, writing and presenting opinion pieces on current issues in Chinese, and participating in group discussions. Study activities will be supported with linguistic and cultural resources, including background information in brief English passages, along with video, audio and additional reading materials introducing the cultural topics. By the conclusion of this subject students should have an enhanced understanding of Chinese cultural practices. They will be more competent in communicating in Chinese on a variety of topics in both spoken and written forms.
Learning Outcomes:	On completion of the subject, students will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• be able to function in Chinese, including in a number of formal situations;</li> <li>• be able to make a short formal presentation in Chinese on some general topics;</li> <li>• develop general correspondence skills;</li> <li>• have a vocabulary of 1300-1350 characters;</li> <li>• be able to build on foundational knowledge of structural patterns to manage complex bodies of new information with increasing confidence;</li> <li>• gain an understanding of the indispensability of accuracy in communication while dealing with larger quantities of information;</li> <li>• acquire knowledge of key social and cultural issues in China from a broad perspective.</li> </ul>
Assessment:	Homework and in-class written assignments 10% (weeks 2-10), a short written essay (300-350 characters) 10% (week 8), an oral test 20% (examination period), a listening comprehension test 20% (week 12), a 2 hour final examination 40% (examination period). Class attendance is required for this subject; if you do not attend a minimum of 80% of classes without an approved exemption you will not be eligible for a pass in this subject.
