Subject Overview:	This subject is designed for students with some previous knowledge of Ancient Greek (VCE level or equivalent). Students translate and discuss the interpretation of a selected work of a Greek prose genre (e.g., philosophy or history). In tutorials, further work is undertaken on grammar and syntax. Students will also undertake work in Ancient Greek literary and textual criticism. On completion of this subject students should have consolidated their skills in working with Ancient Greek texts and have discovered some of the many important contributions which reading original texts can make to understanding the ancient world. Students who complete this subject may progress to Ancient Greek 4.
Learning Outcomes:	Students who successfully complete this subject should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # have read an Ancient Greek text in the original, # have consolidated their knowledge of grammar and syntax, and extended their vocabulary.
Assessment:	Weekly translations tests, equivalent to 750 words 10% (held each week throughout the semester), weekly tutorial exercises, equivalent to 1250 words 30% (due each week throughout the semester), a 1-hour assessment test, equivalent to 1000 words 30% (held in the middle of the semester) and a 1-hour final examination, equivalent to 1000 words 30% (in the examination period). Hurdle requirement: students must attend a minimum of 75% of tutorials (9 out of 12) and complete the assessment test and examination in order to pass this subject. Assessment submitted late without an approved extension will be penalised at 10% per day; after five working days late assessment will not be marked. In-class tasks missed without approval will not be marked. All pieces of written work must be submitted to pass this subject.
