Subject Overview:	This subject is an intensive introduction to art of screen acting that focuses on the processes actors use for creating effective performances for camera. A series of practical exercises are introduced that allow participants to focus on creating effective on-screen performances. Students experiment with concept of 'intention' through prescribed and self-selected scenes. Practical insight into dealing with the pressure of the camera's gaze and learning to work objectively with one's self image is given. Classes and exercises will also focus on the analysis of classic scenes from theatre, film and television. This subject will be of interest to aspiring actors, directors, cinematographers, writers and artists wishing to gain a practical understanding of the relationship between the living body and its performance for camera.
Learning Outcomes:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • demonstrate an application of acting for camera technique including 'inhabiting the material', 'clarity of intention' and 'revelation of inner life'; • select and adapt material appropriate to the context of filmed performance; • perform in a way that is believable, instinctive and tells a story simply; • analyse the fundamental constituents that underlie the creation of an effective performance for camera; • work effectively as a collaborator in scene work; • solve problems in relation to the production of filmed scene work.
Assessment:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reflection Paper (1500 words) - End of Semester 35% • Performance in screen test simulation session (equivalent to 15 minute presentation, multiple takes of performed material, captured digitally working towards 60 second screen test recording). - End of Semester 40% • Daily preparation of short scenes, individual and/or group acting exercises, and active contribution to all filming and improvisation classes as directed during intensive workshop week. - Mid Semester 25% • 100% punctual and full attendance is expected during the intensive. Less than 80% attendance will result in a fail. - During Intensive Hurdle
