Subject Overview:	This subject is offered in the form of a seminar which introduces research methods and materials in different specialised fields within the three core areas of Germanic studies: literature, linguistics, and cultural studies. The topics of the seminars include a range of representative texts, authors and approaches in the key areas of German literature, linguistics and cultural studies. By choosing one of the seminars, students will gain both an introduction to research methods and materials in Germanic studies and familiarity with a specialist field. Students should develop the ability to approach specific problems in a chosen area of interest through the critical use of sophisticated oral and written German.
Learning Outcomes:	At the end of this subject, students will <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # have been introduced to research methods and materials in the academic discipline of Germanic studies. # have been introduced to a special field in at least one of the three core areas of literature, linguistic and cultural studies. # have learnt to appraise specialized language in the area of interest chosen through the use of sophisticated oral and written German. # have demonstrated a critical appreciation of the subject matter in the area chosen.
