Subject Overview:	The common law forms one of the two principal systems of Western law that, through colonisation, have spread throughout the world. The common law's understanding of the nature of law, its approach to the resolution of disputes and its institutions have all had a profound effect on the development not only of the societies in the countries in which it applies, but also of international law and practice. This subject introduces the common law, at an advanced level, to graduates in disciplines other than law and to law graduates of non-common law jurisdictions. Adopting a historical, comparative and jurisprudential approach, the subject studies the major rules, principles and values of the common law that are likely to enhance an understanding of the other subjects that students will undertake in the Melbourne Law Masters. The subject also aims to develop skills in legal analysis, research and writing. This subject provides an examination of the history, principal legal concepts and institutions of the common law. Topics will be chosen with a view to providing a basis of knowledge and understanding for areas of law covered elsewhere in the Melbourne Law Masters. Principal topics will include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Evolution of the common law, the division between law and equity, theories of law, basic concepts, and values and assumptions # Sources of law in common law systems

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Institutions and procedures of the common law # Substantive principles of the common law # The interpretation of statutes.
Learning Outcomes:	A student who has successfully completed this subject should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Have a sound general understanding of the history, principles, legal concepts and institutions of the common law # Understand the principal points of similarity and difference between common law and civil law systems # Be aware of the tendencies of the main legal systems to borrow from each other and understand the principal reasons for this # Have developed skills in legal analysis, research and writing.
