Subject Overview:	This subject builds on the basics of sound recording presented in The Lap Top Recording Studio . Aspects of sound recording including microphone use, mixing, ensemble/band and solo recording, acoustics, recording set up and editing will be examined. Advanced Recording Studio Techniques is delivered in a workshop environment and will practically illuminate the fundamental and advanced principals of mixing and recording engineering. The workshop provides the opportunity for problem solving through the completion of short assignments and group discussion of issues related to advanced studio recording. During the course students will be required to complete individual tasks and engage in whole group discussion.
Learning Outcomes:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> # Develop an appreciation and understanding of the nature of sound recording. # Be cognisant of the key elements of studio sound recording. # Be able to connect creative skill development with actual sound recording tasks. # Develop skill in the techniques of audio engineering.
