Subject Overview:	This subject investigates the integral role of assessment and reporting for learning and teaching. Participants will develop theoretical and practical understanding of the principles of assessment, focussing on assessment as a tool to promote student achievement and experiential learning, and methods of evaluation that contribute to the ongoing effectiveness of the curriculum and support different learning needs. Topics include norm and criterion-based assessment and referencing, internal and external components of the IB Diploma Programme, the use of formative and summative assessment and reporting strategies, and the use of guiding and essential questions. The role of teacher self-evaluation and the school self-study in relation to the Learner Profile and the Diploma Programme will be addressed.
Learning Outcomes:	On completion of this subject students should be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li># Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of assessment of student learning and its contribution to the evaluation of the effectiveness of an educational programme;</li><li># Recognise the difference between knowledge, attitudes, skills and understanding and how these constitute challenges and/or opportunities for assessment as a means of supporting teaching and learning;</li><li># Evaluate a range of assessment tools and styles and reporting strategies including rubrics, teacher and school self-evaluation, and the rationale for them in the area of teaching and learning;</li><li># Demonstrate an understanding of formative and summative assessment and the relationship between reporting and feedback and improved student learning;</li><li># Explore different tools and strategies for assessing student learning and supporting the diverse learning needs of students;</li><li># Explore challenges for administering assessment especially within an international context.</li></ul>
