Subject Overview:	Critical Reflection allows students an opportunity to critically engage, through the post-production process, with their own creative work. Each student engages critically, under supervision and interrogation, with material that they have produced through Screen Practice 3. Students reflect on the material's original intention, challenges in the delivery of that intention, given the material produced, and consider how to re-purpose the material to achieve or revise the original intention. Audience engagement with the material and story are strong indicators that the student directors need to reflect upon.
Learning Outcomes:	# To enhance the student's self-reflective abilities; # To reshape story material with an objective eye; # To facilitate awareness of audience perceptions of their material; # To enhance technical proficiency in offline editing; # To enhance effective communication with collaborators.
Assessment:	Hurdle requirement Students must attend 80% of all scheduled classes and attempt all elements of assessment to be eligible for a pass in this subject: Fine Cut (offline) of Major production – (equivalent 3000 words)- End of Semester - 65% Rushes reflection and director's approach to edit report - equivalent 500 words - Mid-Semester* *assessment staggered depending on individual student shooting schedule - 15% Fine Cut assessment report – 500
