Subject Overview:	This subject is designed for students with some previous knowledge of Latin (VCE level or equivalent). Students examine Roman rhetorical practice through the study of an oratorical text, such as a speech of Cicero. In addition, work is undertaken on grammar and syntax to revise, consolidate and extend students' knowledge of the language. Students who complete this subject should be familiar with the structures and stylistic techniques of Roman oratory, be able to identify the roles of rhetorical practice in Roman social and political life, and understand its function as an instrument of Roman elite self-definition. Students who complete this subject may progress to Latin 4.

Learning Outcomes:	Students who successfully complete this subject should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> # be familiar with the style of Roman oratory; # understand the cultural and production contexts of the text; # have consolidated their knowledge of grammar and syntax and extended their vocabulary.
Assessment:	Weekly tutorial exercises, equivalent to 1200 words, due each week throughout the semester (30%) an assessment test equivalent to 1000 words, held at the end of semester (30%) an 1800-word essay due during the end of semester examination period (40%) Hurdle Requirement: Students are required to attend a minimum of 75% of classes in order to pass this subject. All pieces of written work must be submitted to pass this subject. Note: Assessment submitted late without an approved extension will be penalised at 10% per working day. In-class tasks missed without approval will not be marked.
