Subject Overview:	An intensive experimental program designed to foster artistic and conceptual strengths, informing and underpinning individual research in the first year studio program. Practical lines of enquiry will be examined through a series of set projects. While the emphasis will be on drawing, students will also explore concepts through a wide range of traditional and new media and technologies. Students are required to participate in the structured program, in group critiques and discussions, in addition to organised excursions.
Learning Outcomes:	This subject will enable students to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • pursue new and unfamiliar modes of artistic enquiry; • increase confidence to undertake experimental technical/artistic approaches in developing set projects; • gain early understanding of ways to approach basic levels of artistic research; • develop confidence in the articulation of ideas and critical analysis of work produced; • develop time management strategies in response to set deadlines; • understand approaches to professional presentation of projects; • stimulate and expand modes of practice and enquiry.
Assessment:	Assessment is based on a comprehensive folio of completed set projects, working sketches and associated experimental works submitted at the end of the semester (100%).Ongoing feedback is provided to students during the semester via individual and group discussion and tutorials. The mid-semester review takes into account the student's progress against the following
