Course Overview:	There will no further intakes into the Master of Adolescent Health and Welfare as it has been discontinued. Persons interested in this course should now refer to the Master of Adolescent Health and Wellbeing: https://handbook.unimelb.edu.au/view/current/MC-ADOLHW(..../view/2014/PSYT90072) The Master of Adolescent Health &amp; Welfare program will provide a unique learning opportunity for students to develop in-depth knowledge and advanced skills in the specialist discipline of adolescent health and well being. The research component (subject and thesis) will require students to propose a research question, choose and design a methodology for a relevant adolescent health issue. They then conduct the investigation under the guidance of a supervisor and apply what is learnt to their own workplace and practice. This research cycle, from conception to implementation and adaptation, serves as a rigorous exercise in academic excellence.
Learning Outcomes:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li># Further develop and apply critically reflective, evidence-informed approaches to adolescent health and welfare practice, program development and policy analysis;</li> <li># Analyse and critically evaluate contemporary theories of adolescence and adolescent development (including historical and cultural contexts), to enhance own practice in working with young people, families, communities and agencies;</li> <li># identify national and international adolescent health issues and trends and relate these to the broader socio-environmental contexts impacting on the health and wellbeing of young people;</li> <li># identify the principles associated with 'micro' and 'macro' approaches to practice and use these to develop enhanced prevention and intervention strategies when working with young people, families, communities and agencies;</li> <li># analyse, evaluate and apply ecological models of resiliency, risk and protection in adolescent health;</li> <li># engage young people, families and other professionals in the development and implementation of strategies to promote adolescent health and wellbeing;</li> <li># Demonstrate a commitment to critical enquiry and evidence-based practice so as to maintain currency with contemporary debates and continuously inform practice;</li> <li># Analyse and reflect on national and international adolescent health issues and trends as they relate to particular communities and professional practice settings;</li> <li># Further develop and apply principles associated with 'micro' and 'macro' approaches to practice in adolescent health and welfare;</li> <li># Plan, implement and evaluate effective prevention, early intervention and intervention strategies relevant to work with young people.</li> </ul>
